

USING THE STUDIO HABITS OF MIND IN A DAILY PLAN

Margaret G. Burman
Photos by Justine Lasdin Springer
<http://dyerkalerartspace.blogspot.com>

STRETCH & EXPLORE

DEVELOP CRAFT

ENVISION

EXPRESS

OBSERVE

ENGAGE & PERSIST

REFLECT

UNDERSTAND ART WORLDS

In our TAB classroom, the My Plan wall helps guide students through the artistic practice and helps them to reflect on which Studio Habits of Mind will be developed during each art class.

#1

Before entering the art room, a selected student chooses the Studio Habit of Mind (SHOM) that the student wants to work on during art class.

#2

As the rest of the class enters and sits for discussion, the student looks at the plan wall and decides when during class that SHOM will be practiced.

#3

Student clips the SHOM up on the plan wall.

#4

The class asks the student questions about her/his plan for the day and how she or he will be working on the chosen SHOM.

The student pictured above decided to ENGAGE & PERSIST during CREATE time by working on a piece that she had previously started several weeks ago.